Symptoms

Of Defective Vision

Many persons have the idea that defective vision manifests itself only in a failure or inability to see clearly, but itching, burning, smarting of the lids, dull pains in the eyes or head, even the back of the head, all come from irregularities in the optical construction of the eyes and may be fully relieved by correctly fitted glasses.

DR. J. T. JOHNSON Guarantees to correct every case that he undertakes. If your eyes are giving annoyance consult him at once.

A TARHEEL BLIZZARD.

Rain, Followed by Snow Storm and Low Temperature.

The winter seasons in North Carolina for the last dozen years have been, with one or two exceptions, exceedingly mild and we have had but few hard freezes and big snows. It had grown to be a common remark, even among comparatively young men, that "we don't have any more cold winters like we had when we were boys." But this winter knocks 'em all out and in the future this winter will be referred to as the winter of '97 has been in the past.

Yesterday morning was bright, sunny and pleasant. About the middle of the afternoon it began to rain. Just before dark the temperature began to fall and the rain suddenly changed into snow, and the largest flakes we have ever seen fell thick and fast. By nine o'clock the stars were twinkling brightly and the mercury still going down. At eleven o'clock a sharp freeze was on and at seven o'clock this morning the ground was frozen hard and the mercury registered only 8 to 10 degrees above zero, representing a fall of 45 to 50 degrees in twenty-four hours.

Verily, we are having a winter that reminds of the days when we were boys.

HOMIE FIRE INSURANCE.

Fine Showings Made by Southern Stock Mutual.

The more than three hundred Winston-Salem policy holders of the Southern Stock Mutual and the Underwriters Insurance Companies of Greensboro, N. C., will be pleased to learn that the premium receipts for 1898 were $50,855.67, and the losses only $10,221.55, and that Messrs. Davis & Politz, the local agents, are delivering as fast as their business will allow, the scrip for their last year's 20 per cent. dividends.

The excellent manage of these companies is shown by the fact that during the past four years they have received $126,596.37 in premiums, and have suffered losses only to the extent of $23,257.94.

It gives us pleasure to commend to the patronage of our people these home companies, which have saved to the state $68,124.35 in four years, and whose assets of $233,731.45 place them among the strongest state companies. These two companies are classed together because both are on the same plan, under the same management, of nearly the same strength and the results in each have been practically the same.—Twin City Sentinel.

T. Whitsett, W. F. Alderman and J. Allen Holt. No better selection could have been made. Dr. Whitsett is principal of Whitsett Institute. All of them are thoroughly competent and each man will have his heart in the work.

LEAPED FROM THE TRENCHES

Only to Meet the Deadly Fire of a Gunboat.

STILL FIGHTING AROUND MANILA

The Brilliant Dash of Company B, Which Electrifies the Whole of The American Forces.

By Cable to THE TELEGRAM.

Manila, Mar. 7.—The insurgent forces at San Juan Del Monte, numbering several thousand, were today driven from their position with great loss. Hale's brigade, which held the water-works against the repeated attacks of the rebels, advanced on San Juan Del Monte this morning. The attack was decided upon at a conference of the regimental brigade commanders at daybreak in order that the entire rebel force might be encompassed and driven to retreat in a body.

Hale's lines swept forward in the form of a V with the open ends toward the Pasig river and as soon as the lines were formed enjoining the regiment they closed in, firing rapidly and effectively. Suddenly Company B sprang from the line with a cheer and with an officer at its head dashed toward the insurgent trenches. This action electrified the entire American forces and the full line swept down upon the Filipinos. After a short fire the insurgents leaped from their earth-works and fled, closely pressed, toward the river, the only direction not cut off. As they turned toward the river they met a furious and pitiless shelling from an American gunboat.

The loss to the insurgents was very heavy, the accurate fire from the gunboat creating a panic. Private Speech, of Nebraska, was the only American soldier wounded in the engagement.

THE OHIO FLOOD.

The Extreme Cold Didn't Stop The Rise In The River.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

Cincinnati, Mar. 7.—Notwithstanding the low temperature and high winds during the night the Ohio river continued steadily rising at the rate of two-tenths of a foot per hour. At 8 o'clock this morning it had reached 56.5. Newport was the earliest sufferer, being considerably flooded and families were compelled to leave their houses or flee to the upper stories. Street car traffic will not be stopped till after the 58 mark is reached. At that stage Dayton and Bellevue, up the river, will be out off.

The water is falling at Brownsville and Morgantown, near the headwaters of the Monongahela, where the great supply came from. This will make the flood in the Monongahela at Wheeling stage 26. At Parkersburg it is stationary and at Portsmouth 54.10 and rising two inches per hour. Taking the latter as an indication the maximum stage at Cincinnati will be 59, possibly 60. The losses to cities along the Ohio river will be slight.

LEXINGTON AND WEST VIRGINIA. Lexington, Ky., Mar. 7.—Almost unprecedented loss followed the breaking of the booms in the Kentucky river. It is estimated that fully a million dollars worth of logs were lost at Jackson, Battyville, Valley View and other places.

Charleston, W. Va., Mar. 7.—Last night was one of suffering. Many business men were compelled to use boats to seek provisions and fuel. Even the governor was forced to use a boat in going from the executive mansion to the capitol. The loss to the timbermen up the Elk is heavy. Immense rafts were torn loose and rushed down the Canawha, heavily damaging the docks and barges.

MILLIONS IN WHISKEY.

Enormous Appreciation of Holdings of Liquor Men.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM. Louisville, Mar. 7.—At least five million dollars will be made by the whiskey men owing to the passage of the outage bill. New York men who are in the whiskey combination now calculate that they will make three millions out of the options they secured before the bill passed. The enormous holdings of Wolf & Co., Chicago, and the National Distributing Company, have appreciated several hundred thousand dollars.

Will Withdraw Marines.

By Cable to THE TELEGRAM. Peking, Mar. 7.—The French and Russian ministers have informed the Tsung-li-Yamen that their government will soon withdraw the marines who are guarding the French and Russian legation.

Announcement.

New York Millinery Parlor will open in No. 125, corner East Market and Davis streets, between the 13th and 20th of March.

OFF ON A SOUTHERN TOUR

A Distinguished Party of Congressmen Start Out.

WANT TO VIEW THE SOUTHLAND.

No Schedule for a Stop in North Carolina—First Stop at Greenville, South Carolina.

Special to THE TELEGRAM.

Washington, Mar. 7.—A distinguished party of congressmen from various sections of the union left Washington Monday night in a special car over the Southern railroad, for an extended trip through the southern states and to Cuba. The party will visit several points in South Carolina, Georgia and Florida, after which they will spend a few days in Havana. The first stop will be at Greenville and then Columbia. Thursday and Thursday night will be spent at Charleston. From Charleston the congressmen will proceed to Savannah, Georgia, then to Jacksonville, St. Augustine, Rockledge and Tampa, from which port they will proceed to Cuba. The object of the trip, as explained by Senator Tillman, who was instrumental in getting up the arrangements for the excursion, is combined for pleasure and business. It will enable the members to judge for themselves the necessities of the southland in matters of legislation which will be brought to the attention of the fifty-sixth congress. Nearly all of the members of the party have been re-elected to the next house. The party includes Senator Tillman, and the following Representatives: Mr. and Mrs. Lauder, of South Carolina; Mr. and Mrs. Norton, of South Carolina; Mr. J. Hamilton Lewis and wife, of Washington; Mr. and Mrs. Connolly, of Illinois; Mr. and Mrs. Showalter, of Pennsylvania; Mr. and Mrs. Shafroth, of Colorado; Mr. and Mrs. Cowherd, of Missouri; Mr. and Mrs. Cochran, of Missouri; Mr. and Mrs. DeArmond, of Missouri. Quite a number of congressmen, including Hon. David B. Henderson, of Iowa, were invited to accompany the party, but were compelled to decline owing to pressure of business requiring their presence at their respective homes.

The representatives of the New England Newspaper League were in the city for a few hours yesterday enroute to Richmond, Virginia. The newspaper men will make an extended tour of the southern states for the purpose of writing up their resources, etc. The exact itinerary had not been made up when the party were in Washington, but it is their desire to visit several points in Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia and Florida.

The validity of the appointment of Senator Pasco to the United States senate by Governor Bloxham, of Florida, has been questioned. While the objections raised lose much of their practical importance from the fact that there will be no extra session of congress at this time, and by the time a congress does assemble, a senator from Florida will have been regularly chosen by the state legislature, yet the question is one which may demand consideration. It has, for a number of years, been the uniform practice of the senate not to recognize appointments of this nature. There was a precedent only two years ago, which would seem to cover this case of Senator Pasco exactly. The term of Senator Call expired on the fourth of March, the legislature not meeting until April, and in the meantime an extra session of congress having been called, the governor appointed Hon. John A. Henderson senator ad interim, which appointment the senate refused to recognize as legal, and the seat remained vacant until the election of Senator Mallory the following May. The cases of Oregon, Washington and Montana, which have in the past attracted much attention in and out of the senate, while not exactly analogous, they may have some bearing.

Much regret is felt at the war department on account of the failure of the bill, which was introduced in the senate last session by Senator Fritchard for the establishment of an army post at Raleigh, North Carolina. The comptroller of the currency has extended the corporate existence of the Wachovia National Bank of Winston, until March 3rd, 1919.

Mr. P. B. Board, of Salisbury, is in the city for a few days. He is registered at the Metropolitan Hotel. Postmasters have been commissioned in North Carolina as follows: Herod H. Duke, Rehoboth; Jacob A. Shive, Rock; Wallace Willis' Wit.

A new line of plain and fancy matting has just been put on sale at Thacker & Brockmann's, ranging in price from 15c to 50c per yard.

TUESDAY, MARCH 7, 1899.

THE LEGISLATURE.

It is announced by a resolution printed elsewhere that the legislature will adjourn tomorrow. The pay of the members stopped last Saturday, that being the sixteenth day of the session. But there was much important unfinished business to be wound up and hence the hold over. This legislature will be a memorable one for many reasons. In the first place it has for its members many of the ablest men in the state, such as Connor, Overman, Craig, Winston Patterson and others in the house and Glenn, Justice, Osborne, Wilson and others in the senate. There were some questions to handle that no previous North Carolina legislature has ever been called upon to tackle. The suffrage amendment was a knotty problem; but we believe it has been solved in a manner that will be endorsed by the people. Other pieces of important legislation have been as ably disposed of.

That some mistakes have been made will no doubt develop. If this should not prove true it would be a result far beyond human ability and expectations. All the laws and provisions enacted will have to be put to the unerring test of time and results. We believe that in the main the work done will stand the crucial test.

Today and tomorrow the New England Newspaper League party is in Richmond. What has been done to secure a visit from them in Greensboro? This is a great opportunity and we fear that in the press of other business matters our people have failed to attach sufficient importance to it. An advertisement in the news columns of eleven of New England's best newspapers would be ample pay for all the expense necessary to induce them to stop here. They have received hundreds of pressing invitations from governors, mayors, boards of trade, and business men generally to stop in different cities of the south. They cannot accept them all, and will be most likely to stop where the invitation shows they are wanted most. Greensboro, with the proper effort, could easily have secured them, and it may not be too late yet.

Last year was a phenomenal one in the growth of Greensboro. This year promises to be greater. Many dwelling houses have been contracted for and will be built. Many houses have been and are being built for rent. This is well, but don't let us make a mistake just here. Dwelling houses make a town pretty and it is necessary to have them; but it is just as necessary to establish additional manufacturing enterprises in which the additional population can earn money to pay for living in these houses. See the point? A man has to pay for a house to live in. It is necessary for him to have a place to make money. Factories furnish this. Earning capacity must be increased in proportion to living capacity in order to result in permanent and lasting success. As dwelling houses go up let manufactures go up also.

An interview published in the Washington Post, Senator Pritchard sounds the bugle blast of the republican party against the constitutional amendment in this state with relation to the suffrage. He asserts, as if he really believed it, that: There has been no negro domination in this state and that Russell's administration has been an able and economical one. He proposes to rely upon these assumptions. But to those who went through last fall's campaign it would appear as if the senator from the bull calf and mica district had gotten in rather late. The people have passed upon these questions and they will hardly be side-tracked in August, 1900, by the statement of any man that they didn't know what they were doing in November 1898. Think ye that they will?

It is related that when Rudyard Kipling was thought to be fatally ill a run was made on all bookstores for his books, and that people who had never read a line from Kipling took an eager turn at it. This proves that the nearer dead a man is the bigger and greater man he becomes in the eyes of the American people. And when he dies he is greater than when he was nearly dead. If Mr. Kipling had crossed the mystic stream there would have been such a clamor for his books that many editions would have been reprinted. But as Mr. Kipling is getting well he'll have to sharpen his Faber and write some more.

It was published yesterday that the University appropriation bill had been killed in the senate. The matter was brought up again yesterday and a bill passed appropriating $7,500 for water works and sewerage for that institution.

How about the proposed Easter debate between Trinity and Davidson colleges?

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy

This remedy is intended especially for coughs, colds, croup, whooping cough and influenza. It has become famous for its cures of these diseases, over a large part of the civilized world. The most flattering testimonials have been received, giving accounts of its good works; of the aggravating and persistent coughs it has cured; of severe colds that have yielded promptly to its soothing effects, and of the dangerous attacks of croup it has cured, often saving the life of the child. The extensive use of it for whooping cough has shown that it robs that disease of all dangerous consequences. Sold by C. E. Holton.

The State Military Board will shortly meet to pass on claims for damages to the Chautauque grounds and cottages at Mount Gretna last spring by the National Guardsmen.

Notice.

The first edition of "The Empire of the South" having been exhausted, a second edition will be ready for distribution by or about March 10, 1899. It is a handsome volume of about 200 pages descriptive of the South and its vast resources, beautifully illustrated, and regarded by critics as the most complete production of its kind that has ever been published.

Persons wishing to secure this work will please enclose to the undersigned 25 cents per copy, which amount approximates the cost of delivery. Remittances may be made in stamps or otherwise.

Rev. E. Edwards, pastor of the English Baptist Church at Minersville, Pa., when suffering with rheumatism, was advised to try Chamberlain's Pain Balm. He says: "A few applications of this liniment proved of great service to me. It subdued the inflammation and relieved the pain. Should any sufferer profit by giving Pain Balm a trial it will please me." For sale by C. E. Holton.

I have been afflicted with rheumatism for fourteen years and nothing seemed to give any relief. I was able to be around all the time, but constantly suffering. I had tried everything I could hear of and at last was told to try Chamberlain's Pain Balm, which I did, and was immediately relieved and in a short time cured. I am happy to say that it has not since returned.—Josh Edgar, Germantown, Cal. For sale by C. E. Holton.

SHIPS SAVED AT SEA.

WHAT IS MEANT BY "SALVAGE" AND HOW IT IS PAID.

There is no law that signals of distress at sea must be heeded—Public Opinion Alone Enforces Response to Calls For Help.

Salvage on ships saved at sea by others in the majority of cases is paid by the underwriters, although the big steamship companies insure themselves. The insurance companies think that a board of arbitration can more satisfactorily adjust salvage claims than can the courts. The word salvage, as defined by that celebrated admiralty authority, Roscoe, is "the reward which is earned by those who have voluntarily saved or assisted in saving a ship or boat or their apparel or any sort thereof or the lives of persons at sea or a ship, cargo or any part thereof, from peril or a wreck from total loss." The last part of the definition is a trifle puzzling.

In discussing the merits of salvage cases it must be remembered that there is no obligation, written or implied, upon the master or crew of any vessel to heed signals of distress. Public opinion alone enforces the idea that "a call for help at sea must be obeyed." The laws of salvage are merely framed to encourage the saving of life and property on the deep. There is avarice in the mariner as in landmen, and the laws are made to overcome and curb these mercenary ambitions. For that reason a master and his crew cannot expect salvage for saving their own vessel. It is the natural assumption in law, as well as in fact, that they must do everything they can to preserve their charge and under an agreement with the owners keep it from danger whenever possible.

In salvage one of the first laws is that the peril must be actual. The bargain made in time of danger by the master or agent of the imperiled craft with another volunteering aid need not of necessity hold in court, and generally does not. As a rule the bargain is exorbitant and made at a time when the victim would be willing to guarantee the payment of millions for proffered assistance. This point has been decided hundreds of times, the courts taking the stand that the peril made an exorbitant bargain necessary.

As a general thing, the salvage award is equal to about one-third the value in the case of sailing craft and from one-third to one-half in the case of steamers. The owners of the saving craft, whose money was wasted by delay, wear and tear, are of course entitled to the biggest piece of the pie. The master of the salvor gets about twice the sum that his mate receives, and the mate is paid something like double the amount of each sailor.

Should the latter have been a member of a lifeboat crew sent in running hawser or in going aboard as a prize crew he and his mates are entitled to an extra compensation. Naval officers cannot claim salvage when the work accomplished is in the direct line of their duty.

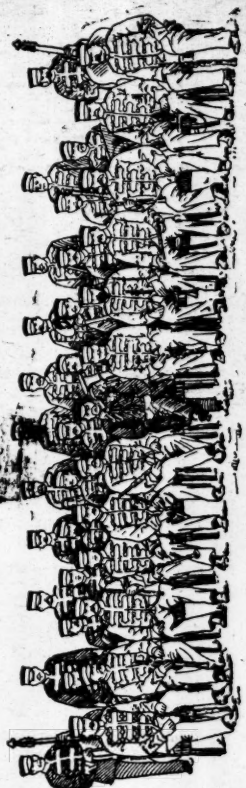

In the case of a abandoned vessel there is a peculiar law as applied to ownership. No matter where the derelict be found and towed or assisted in by a prize crew or otherwise the court holds that she is still the property of her original owners, although abandoned by her crew, their agents, and that no effort has been made by them to recover her. It sounds peculiar to the average mariner, but it's the law.

To make a successful salvage claim it is necessary that the property must be actually saved and saved by those claiming to be salvors. In other words, the salvage services must be rendered by persons not bound by contract to render them. If the mariner or other encounters the danger or misfortune or damage which might possibly expose the ship to destruction unless assistance is rendered and does all he can to save the vessel, and his services tend in some degree to save or preserve her, compensation will be awarded him, although the vessel is mainly preserved by other means.

The longest time that any one steamer has been at sea with disabled machinery before reaching port was 77 days. This was the United States corvette Iroquois in 1890. She was bound to Samoa from Honolulu, and had only seven days' rations left when port was reached. In 1897 the steamer Iroquois was towed into St. Thomas after having been at sea for 47 days. The Glasgow steamer Strathness, after drifting 89 days out of the range of steamers, was towed into St. Michael's in January, 1897, by the British steamer Humber M. Bell. Another Strathness, the Strathena, drifted helplessly on the Pacific for two months and over in 1895, and was finally towed into Puget sound. The Dispatch in 1864 was out 61 days with crippled machinery, and four years ago the British cruiser Calypso broke down 2,000 miles from port and sailed in unaided, much to the delight of the dwindling band of naval experts who maintain that every warship ought to be provided with ample sail power.

The owners of those ships that were obliged to drift for weeks, and in several cases for months, would not have found fault with the question of salvage had a helping hand come along—at least there would have been no complaint just then.—New York Mail and Express.

Opening of the Social Season and Inauguration of the Magnificent

New York & Florida Limited Service
JANUARY 16, 1909.

The opening of the Florida season will be signalized this year as usual by the placing in service of the "New York and Florida Limited" between New York and St. Augustine, Fla. This train is acknowledged to be the finest in the world, in its appointments, luxury and detail of finish, and the first of these trains was constructed by the Pullman company for the use of the President of the United States on official tours.

"The New York and Florida Limited" leaves New York daily except Sunday at 11:50 a. m., via the Pennsylvania Railroad, the Southern Railway, Florida Central & Peninsular R. R. and the Florida East Coast Railway, and reaches St. Augustine at 2:20 p. m. the following day, making the run, which exceeds 1,000 miles, in little more than twenty-four hours. No train has attracted so much attention, and its fame has been heralded wherever railroading is known. It is composed of Pullman compartment cars, each room being finished in different woods and supplied with private lavatory and toilet; Pullman drawing-room sleeping cars of the latest pattern and finish; a royal club car for the gentlemen; an observation car with a handsome drawing room at its rear opening on to a wide platform; a library car, and dining car, in which the service and the cuisine rank with the finest New York hotels. This "New York and Florida Limited" runs through solid to St. Augustine with the exception of one car which is detached at Columbia, S. C., and goes through to Aiken, which it reaches at 9:35 the next morning after leaving New York, and Augusta at 9:50. Brunswick and Jacksonville are conveniently reached by this train at 12 o'clock noon through the perfect connections afforded at Everett, Ga.

There are two other fine trains between New York and Florida via "The Florida Short Line," one the "Washington and Southwestern Vestibule Limited," leaving New York at 4:20 p. m. daily, and the "United States Fast Mail," leaving New York at 12:05 midnight. The former train carries through Pullman drawing room sleeping cars between New York, Jacksonville and Tampa, and also offers Pullman sleeping car service between New York and Augusta, Ga., with connections for Aiken, Brunswick and Jacksonville. The latter carries through drawing room sleeping cars between New York and Jacksonville, connecting with parlor car service to points on F. C. & P. R. R. and F. E. C. Ry. Dining cars are operated on all trains of the Southern Ry. "The Florida Short Line" in connection with the Florida East Coast Railway to Miami offers the most direct, quickest and delightful service to Nassau, Havana and Key West. For full information, reservations, etc., apply to J. L. Adams, G. E. A., F. C. & P. R. R., 353 Broadway, New York, or to A. S. Thwait, E. P. A., Southern Ry., 271 Broadway, New York.

FOOD THAT INJURES.

THINGS THAT AFFLICTED PERSONS SHOULD NOT EAT.

If You Have a Tendency to Get Stomach Trouble, You Would Torture A Little Advice to the Great Army of Sufferers From Dyspepsia.

A physician, writing in the Philadelphia Inquirer on "Foods and Their Effect on the Human System," says: "That out of sorts feeling from which most of us suffer half the days of our life is usually due to our eating things we shouldn't. Although we are constructed on the same model, scarcely any two people have exactly the same kind of heart, liver and other organs, and as a result nothing is truer than the saying that 'One man's meat is another man's poison.'"

Meat, for instance, is a slow poison to a number of individuals. If there is a gouty strain in your family, you are storing up future torture for yourself every time you eat a chop or piece of beef. Gout is simply the result of too much uric acid in the blood, and meat is full of the material from which uric acid is made.

You may think that so long as you have not to sit in an easy chair all day there is no need for precautions in diet. But the first symptoms are always mild, and if you feel irritable and unable to settle down to work you had better be careful how much meat you eat. Englishmen are said to be the worst tempered people on earth. They are also the most gouty, and there can be no doubt that they are the greatest meat eaters.

Nothing is more nourishing than sugar, yet it is absolutely poison to those who are prone to diabetes, and any one inclined to corpulence should regard it as a natural enemy. Two lumps of sugar per day in excess of the quantity required by the body would add 60 pounds to a man's weight in five years—that is, of course, if he had the sort of constitution that easily puts on flesh.

But it is not sugar alone which is injurious to diabetic and stout people. The former should not look at porridge, rice, beet root, Spanish onions, port wine, beer or ginger beer; the latter should take neither soup, beer, potatoes nor French, while stout people should not touch peas or beans.

If any member of your family has St. Vitus' dance or epilepsy, you should eat meat very sparingly and grapes not at all, while you might as well think of committing suicide as frquenting the barroom.

For dyspepsia it is impossible to say what food is good, because everything is bad. White bread remains undigested for hours, brown bread is most irritating and injurious, vegetables are converted into gases and painful acids, and most kinds of meat are too heavy. Dyspeptic, in fact, ought never to have been born.

However, since the sufferer from dyspepsia must eat, let him follow this rule, and it may bring relief: Eat a little of everything, but eat sparingly, never leaving the table with a sense of having eaten sufficient; eat slowly. Masticate all food thoroughly and never drink while eating. If he must drink, let him drink after he has finished eating.

No doubt the majority of people see no connection between the ailments they have enjoyed. But there are many persons who are so severely affected by particular articles of diet that there is no question about the fact that some kinds of food are more or less poisonous to us all, although we may not suffer very greatly after eating them. An acquaintance of the writer's, for example, falls into convulsions if he eats a single strawberry, and even the odor of strawberry jam in the neighborhood of jam factories almost throws him into a fit.

The writer knows a lady whose heart comes to a stop if she eats an egg. Of course she never intentionally eats one now, but frequently on taking a piece of cake or some kind of pudding or sauce containing eggs she swoons.

Many people get cramp in the stomach from eating honey, and more than one death has resulted from this cause. Others are made violently sick by the smell of apples, and a patient of the writer's has often avowed that even the sight of beet root seemed to suffocate him, while another had to give up drinking milk because it produced intense inflammation of the eyes.

Many kinds of fish cause serious illness. Lobsters and crabs produce most painful itching in some people, and the writer has known several who after eating salmon felt a horrid taste in the mouth, and soon after suffered so badly from headache as to be compelled to go to bed.

These latter are the extreme instances of injury from food, but they prove that thousands of people suffer in a less degree, and that probably no one can lunch or dine without swallowing something poisonous to his system.

A LAKE PILOT'S LEG.

How It Solved the Mystery of the Wreck of a Steam Propeller.

"We are amazed when vessels go aground and are wrecked on a lake. During the gales that are common on that treacherous water, for we expect such things then," said a lake skipper, "but when one is grounded on a clear day and wrecked on a course as straight as the nose of a pilot that knows the ground like a book we naturally wonder a little and want to know the why and wherefore. Such was the case of the propeller Susan E. Peck that went aground near Bar point and was lost with a $20,000 cargo.

The captain of the Susan E. Peck had sailed successfully hundreds of times between Point Pelee and Bar point and in all kinds of weather, and this time he had a wheelman who was known from one end of the lake to the other as one of the most expert navigators in the lake business. He had been lying up a long time, for the very good reason that owing to an accident to one of his legs that leg had to be amputated to save his life. The lost member was replaced by an artificial leg, and then the pilot was ready to take his post at the wheel again. His first service after his misfortune was this trip of the Susan E. Peck, and he ran her aground.

"The puzzle to everybody was how it was possible for the propeller, handled by a man of such skill and experience, on a straight course only 40 miles long and with every sailing condition favorable, to leave her course. The pilot was the most puzzled and astounded person of all. He soon got another vessel, and this one he ran in such an erratic manner, but fortunately with no disastrous result, that he was compelled to give her up, and his usefulness as a pilot was gone. He and others went to investigating to see if they could discover what was wrong with his seamanship.

"After awhile they discovered what they believed was the trouble. In the pilot's artificial leg a great deal of steel had been used in the joints and other places. Sitting close to the binnacle, as he did while steering, this steel damaged the compass so that it threw the wheelman way off his reckoning and led to the wrong piloting that had wrecked the Susan E. Peck and endangered the other vessel that the wheelman navigated subsequently. This was what they argued, and to demonstrate the correctness of the theory the pilot took charge of a vessel without wearing his false leg. Everything worked to a charm. The mystery of the Susan E. Peck was solved, and the pilot was restored to his old place in the confidence of Lake Erie skippers and vessel owners."—New York Sun.

South America's Suicide Wind.
In Brazil and other parts of South America the winds know and fear a certain condition of the air which they call "suicide wind."

It is not a superstition, but an actual condition of the atmosphere which seems to drive the people to madness, and during its continuance self-inflicted deaths are numerous.

Criminologists and scientists all over the world are interested in this peculiar atmospheric influence, which is indicated by a soft, moist, warm air that settles heavily on the earth.

A climatic condition known as the "suicide wind" is greatly dreaded in that part of the country.

Statistics prove that suicides and other crimes occur together or in waves as they are described.

The Moral Is Plain.

"Once upon a time," says the Houtdale (Pa.) Journal, "a man got mad at the editor and stopped the paper. In a few weeks he sold his corn at 4 cents less than the market price. Then his property was sold for taxes because he didn't read the sheriff's sale. He paid $10 for a lot of forged notes that had been advertised two weeks and the public warned against them. He then rushed to the printing office and paid several years' subscription in advance and had the editor sign an agreement that he was to knock him down if he ordered his paper to be stopped again."

Wanted a Chance.

A Scottish preacher who found his congregation going to sleep on Sunday before he fairly began suddenly stopped and exclaimed: "Brethren, it's nae fair. Gie a mon half a chance. Wait till I get along, and then if I nae worth listening to gang to sleep, but dinna gang before I get commenced. Gie a mon a chance."

An Expert.

"Do you carve?"
"I should say I did!"
And what are your specialties?"
"Sausage and omelets."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

It is a sober truth that people who live only to amuse themselves work harder at the task than most people do in earning their daily bread.—Hannah More.

As the season of the year when pneumonia, la grippe, sore throat, coughs, colds, catarrh, bronchitis and lung troubles are to be guarded against, nothing "is a fine substitute," will "answer the purpose," or is "just as good" as One Minute Cough Cure. That is the one infallible remedy for all lung, throat or bronchial troubles. Instat vigorously on having it if "something else" is offered you. Howard Gardner.

It is expected that the court will be absent from Washington not more than two weeks. Minute inspections will be made of meat establishments in Chicago, Kansas City and Omaha, particular attention being paid to the refrigerated and canned beef departments. Employees will be selected at random to testify.

He Escaped!

His many friends will be glad to learn of his escape—though narrow it was.
With a heroic effort worthy of a more seasonable cause, he narrowly escaped freezing to death in the present blizzard, grandly and boldly striving to compose an article on "Spring, Beautiful Spring!"
We take heed of his misfortune and tell you about our Winter Weight Suits that are going at summer prices. Don't be last—you come next.

BRIEF LOCAL MATTERS.

Get your ticket for Gordon.
Bob Sloan went to Reidsville at noon.
Col. Morehead will introduce Gen. Gordon.

Dr. T. E. Balesley, of Reidsville, is in the city today.
Don't let the March winds keep you from hearing Gordon.

Tomorrow night everybody will be at the academy to hear Gordon.
Only one more day to have your seats reserved for Gordon's lecture.

Baggage Master A. T. Vernon, of the Southern, went to Ringgold today to visit his father.

The Poverty Soshul comes off tonight in spite of the cold. The hall over Fishplate's will be comfortably heated.

James A. G. Lewis left at noon today for Wilmington where he has accepted a position as assistant manager of the pressing club.

Mr. Blackburn says the academy will be good and warm for tomorrow night. The reason it was so cold for the concert the cellar door was left open.

Misses Kate Blackwell, of Mayodan, and Anna Oliver, of Reidsville, two popular young ladies, visited friends in the city and left this morning for Mayodan.

The blizzard last night and the extreme cold today reminds us that the ad of Rankin, Chisholm, Stroud & Rees, is a most timely one—winter weight suits at summer prices. Read it.

Mrs. James Elkin, nee Miss Brooks, died at her home near Ore Hill, of dropsy, on Sunday, March 5th. She was, we learn, a relative of Messrs. R. W., T. T. and A. F. Brooks, of this city.

N. J. McDuffie, the leading undertaker, advertises furniture, coffins, caskets, burial robes etc. in his large space on second page today. He carries a large stock of these goods and you should not neglect to examine his stock before buying.

If you are expecting to build or to buy property already improved, or if you need money in your business and have real estate security to offer, you can always secure reasonable loans by applying to Wharton & McAllister, whose ad appears on first page of this issue.

We are pleased to learn from Mr. A. G. Stroud, that his brother Dr. O. D. Stroud, of Ore Hill, who has been seriously ill with pneumonia, though not yet past the danger point, is much better. Dr. Stroud has many friends in Greensboro who hope that he will soon be entirely well.

The young ladies of West Washington street Baptist church, will give a "Poverty Soshul" tonight in the large room over Fishplate-Katz Co's. store for the benefit of the Sunday School. It promises to be a very amusing affair. Don't stay away on account of the cold weather; the room will be warm.

A list of trade-getters for this month is advertised today by the new store—The Cash Racket, at 332 South Elm street, one door north of the express office. Shoes, groceries, dry goods and notions, are all mentioned. They were bought at 60 cents on the dollar and are offered for sale correspondingly low.

On account of the destruction of telegraph lines, by the heavy storms in different parts of the country, the Telegram is unable to furnish the market report today. The private wire of Messrs. Payne, Murphy & Company, from whom we get the report, was one of those so unfortunate as to be blown to the ground.

It will pay you to call on Thacker & Brockmann if you are going to buy anything in the way of carpets, art squares or matting.

The Right Sort.

At the meeting of the county commissioners on yesterday afternoon the petition was presented by Mr. Chas. H. Ireland, who made a practical business talk pointing out the necessity and the benefits to be derived from stone covered roads. He also agreed, if the commissioners wished it, to purchase the outfit through his firm at factory prices, thus saving the county a considerable sum of money. Remarks or rather requests were made by other progressive citizens, all on the same line—showing the urgent need of this step.

MRS. HODSEKESPER:
Please permit us to ask you a very pointed question: Have you a Universal Food Chopper? By this we do not mean a meat grinder, but a Chopper, which takes the place of chopping bowl and beater.
It chops meat, of course, but it does more. You can chop ham, cocoanut, or bread instead of grating it. You can—but we can't tell it all here. Our booklet gives full information. Free. You will have use for it every day in the year. It is very simple and very cheap. Please call and let us show it to you. Yours truly,
